

Should I send my child to school?

We are experiencing high volumes of calls from parents this week asking the office for advice regarding symptoms their children may have. We have drawn up a quick flow chart below to support with these matters:

